A note for the mSupply user processing the order in the warehouse:

The customer's order will appear in mSupply Desktop as a customer invoice with 'wf' (web finalised) status. This means the customer can no longer edit the order but the Desktop user can edit the order. The customer invoice displays the customer's order with placeholder lines by default. This gives the mSupply Desktop user control to choose the stock for the customer's order.

To choose stock see the re-distribute section: Redistribute placeholder lines.

Using an order list

If you have been assigned an Order List of the items you are allowed to order, this can be used when you are creating an order. Clicking the Add lines from Order list button will display the items on the list(s) defined for the customer logged in.

For setting up a default order list, see Names: Using, adding and editing

The list will be displayed with the items in the same order as was specified when setting up the list in mSupply.

Back at the supplying store...

All orders finalised in the customer interface are sent to the customer's supplying store in mSupply. The mSupply operator logged into the supplying store will see these orders as wf status customer invoices.

These invoices contain placeholder lines representing the quantities ordered by the customer. The mSupply operator at the supplying store must then assign stock to these lines in the normal way (see the Editing a placeholder line on an invoice and surrounding sections for details).

As soon as the operator has closed the wf status invoice and closed it again (whether they have edited it or not) in mSupply, the invoice is changed to sg status (unless it has been placed on hold) and it will no longer be visible in the customer interface.

When stock has been applied to the various lines, the invoice is processed in the normal way (see the Issuing goods to a customer \(customer invoices\) section for details) to create the picking list and dispatch note as required before the goods are dispatched to the customer.
